

SYSTEM TRANSPORT, INC.

System Transport, Inc. is a notable member of the Arizona Trucking Association for many reasons. It has a reputation for integrity and dependability in flatbed and specialized carrier operations, it has shown consistent growth since the inception of the company, and its leaders display flexibility to the industry's ever-changing economic climate. What's more, the company lives up to its reputation of continued success at every terminal across the U.S, and the local Arizona operation is no exception. Since System Transport's Arizona terminal opened its doors in 2003 with four trucks, it has experienced enormous growth, now boasting 130 trucks, a 7 acre property, and an on-site maintenance shop. This in and of itself is impressive, but add to that an unyielding dedication and involvement in the industry through the Arizona Trucking Association and you have the reason why System Transport, Inc. is such a standout.

System Transport's Regional Manager, Larry Woolson speaks as ATA Chairman and Building Committee Chairman at the Groundbreaking event for the new ATA offices.

Involvement in the ATA has been important to System Transport's Arizona location since day one. System's Regional Manager, Larry Woolson, was the driving force behind System becoming a member, and was quick to expound on the value of ATA. "In order to be a successful start-up transportation company in Arizona, membership in the ATA is critical. It is supportive of the industry and the area," Mr. Woolson said. And he should know. His dedication to the ATA is reflected in the positions that he holds within the association – he is currently ATA Chairman as well as Chairman of the building committee. This extensive involvement in ATA has reinforced the concept of integrity and follow-through that is central to System Transport's mission.

System Transport, Inc. is based in Spokane, Washington and is a subsidiary of Trans-System, Inc. Other subsidiaries of Trans-System include: TW Transport Refrigerated Services, James J. Williams Bulk Service Transport, and Driver Training & Solutions driving schools. The mission of Trans-System is to provide its customers with the highest level of quality service in the industry, which is a mantra echoed in System's mission and approach. System Transport has terminals and sales offices around the United States and prides itself on being large enough to handle almost any job, but not so large that it cannot adapt to its customers' unique needs. Above all, System and Trans-System share high standards which permeate every aspect of their business operations.
